++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a rather cloudy day across Wales, the Midlands and southern England with a few spots of drizzle, although some heavier rain is possible in southwest England during the morning and it may brighten up for some later. Further north it will be a markedly brighter day with some sunshine, although western Scotland may remain cloudy and wet.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Much of the UK will have a fine and warm day on Monday, but the far northwest is likely to become increasingly wet and windy. On Tuesday the rain will sink slowly southeast to most parts, with brighter conditions following.
