Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a dry and bright start to the working week for most with some decent sunny spells. Showers will move in from the southeast though and they could be heavy at times with the risk of thunder too. It will feel warm in the sunshine and light winds though.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Tuesday will be a mostly dry and bright day. There will be some sunshine, especially towards western coasts. It will then be a cloudy day on Wednesday and rain will arrive from the east later, with some heavy outbreaks expected.
