Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a grey start across the United Kingdom, with a few drizzly outbreaks here and there, and some more persistent rain in Northern Ireland and the west of Scotland. It'll be breezy too, and most places will then see a shower or two by lunchtime, and central and south-eastern parts may see some sunny spells in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Monday remains unsettled with further blustery showers. These will be particularly heavy and perhaps thundery in the north east, and across the south of England. Tuesday looks drier and brighter with some sunny spells, but further showers in the south.
