++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and patchy light rain or drizzle will sink southwards across south-western parts tomorrow. Meanwhile, the rest of England will remain largely dry with some sunshine developing during the afternoon. Otherwise, northern counties will see a mix of occasional showers and brighter intervals.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

Sunday will be mostly dry and some spells of sunshine will develop through the day. However, it will become drier into Monday and temperatures will once again be on the rise. There will be some sunshine for all, with the best of the sunshine expected in the southwest of England.
