Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Dull, wet conditions in the southeast at first Wednesday will clear during the morning as sunshine and blustery, locally heavy, showers elsewhere follow from the west. Mild but very windy with southwesterly winds reaching gale force around western and southern coasts and hills.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday sees thick cloud, heavy rain and gales spreading across all parts from the west. Bright or sunny intervals and showers will soon follow to the north but cloud and rain will linger in the south. On Friday all parts will have sunny intervals and showers, these prolonged and heavy in places, mainly the north and west.
