Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A ridge of high pressure will build over the UK tomorrow bringing fine and mostly dry conditions, with light winds. After any early mist and fog clears through the morning there'll be plenty of sunny spells with patchy fair weather cloud. There may be the odd sharp shower in the south and west but these will be short-lived.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Into Friday it'll be mostly fine and dry but winds will increase across Northern Ireland and northwestern Scotland, with cloudy and wet weather pushing in. On Saturday it'll be breezy for many but mostly dry, with rain most likely in the northwest.
