Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow: Mostly dry and fine in the south with some hazy sunshine, the best of the sunshine in the southeast. Also bright further north but it will gradually become rather cloudy, with scattered showers developing during the day, then more persistent rain later around central and northern areas as cloud thickens further. Winds will be light on the whole.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Wind and rain will gradually spreading northeastwards to most parts during Friday, with heavy rain in the south and west during the afternoon. Heavy rain or showers pretty much anywhere by Saturday, with a risk of some strong winds in the south.
