Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most parts of the United Kingdom will see showers or longer periods of rain on Tuesday, with this rain becoming persistent, heavy and possibly thundery at times. The areas most likely to see any drier and brighter weather are western Scotland during the morning and southern and southeastern England later in the afternoon.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

It will remain unsettled on Wednesday with showers or outbreaks of rain affecting many places. On Thursday there may be further rain at first but northern then western areas are likely to become drier and brighter. However, it will still feel cool in fresh northeasterly winds.
