Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Eastern parts of the UK will be largely dry with some bright or sunny spells, the best of these along the east coast. The west will be cloudier with showers affecting some places, with these becoming more persistent by evening. Winds strengthen throughout the day.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Rain continues to affect western parts of the UK on Monday morning and will become heavy at times, especially over Northern Ireland. It gradually moves eastwards but will be slow to clear, still be affecting parts of Scotland and England on Tuesday with sunshine and showers elsewhere. Strong winds on Monday ease on Tuesday.
