++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Scotland will stay cloudy with outbreaks of rain, but these should peter out during the afternoon. Most other parts will see a few showers at first but will be dry and fine for much of the morning. Further cloud and rain will spread northeastwards into Wales and much of England and Northern Ireland during the afternoon.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Heavy rain in eastern parts will clear away quickly to leave many parts dry on Sunday. There will be some sunshine but also a few blustery showers in the west. Monday continues windy with further heavy rain spreading eastwards during the day.
