

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Thursday 20 Jul 2017

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Cloud and patchy rain moves eastwards today, clearing all but the far northeast. Fresher and brighter conditions will follow across western parts, with heavy, perhaps thundery showers spreading across Northern Ireland later. Northeastern parts will become drier overnight. Elsewhere, northern and eastern parts will stay mostly dry. Further west, it will be cloudy and windy with further wet weather.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Friday will be mostly dry and bright for central and eastern counties. Meanwhile, heavy rain will spread across western parts through the day. Saturday will bring further showers or longer spells of rain at times. However, some sunshine is also likely.
