Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:

A dry, bright start to the day. However, some showers will develop, especially across eastern parts where they could be heavy and thundery. In the sunshine it will feel warm with light winds. This evening showers will ease away, leaving chilly night with clear spells and a risk of mist and fog.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

A dry, fine day with light winds and warm sunshine on Saturday. However, turning cloudy in the far west in the evening with some rain likely by dark. The rain will spread eastwards on Sunday, however it is likely to stay dry and warm in the far east.
