Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Aside from the odd shower across eastern counties through the morning, most of the UK will see another fine day, with the best of the sunshine across central and western areas. Northern Ireland should see a good deal more sunshine than today, but North Sea coastal areas could remain quite cloudy.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

The largely fine and dry weather will continue on Wednesday and Thursday. Most places will continue to see some sunshine, with temperatures gradually on the rise. However, there will be a brisk southeasterly breeze, which will keep some southern and eastern coasts that bit cooler.
