Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most parts of the UK will be dry with some pleasantly warm and prolonged sunshine, and light winds. However, it will be cloudier across some central and southern parts with the odd spot of drizzle first thing over the northwest Midlands and north Wales. A few blustery showers are also possible over the Northern Isles.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

It will be largely dry and bright on Friday and Saturday too. However, a little rain is expected to spread eastwards across northern and western parts of the UK during Sunday morning. It should remain warm with temperatures above normal, and winds will be light.
