++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Wintry showers in parts of Scotland and Northern Ireland during the morning, but drier and sunnier in eastern Scotland. An area of rain will reach Northern Ireland by midday, spreading into southern Scotland and northern England during the afternoon. The rain will turn to snow in places during the evening. Elsewhere it will stay mainly dry.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

The area of snow in Northern Ireland and central Scotland on Saturday, will slowly edge north, potentially giving further accumulations. Otherwise, it will remain unsettled with patchy rain at times, although perhaps staying drier and brighter in parts of England and Wales on Saturday.
