++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be a frosty start with patches of dense fog slowly clearing through the morning. This will lead to a dry day with sunny spells, light winds and variable amounts of cloud, with the best of the sunshine in the northeast of the UK. Overnight it should remain dry, although turning cloudy with some possible frost and fog patches.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Both Wednesday and Thursday will remain mostly dry and rather cloudy. The best of the sunshine is likely to be in the northeast of the UK, whilst some light rain and strengthening winds are possible in northwest Scotland come Thursday.
