++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be bright across northern and eastern Britain, but rain will continue northeastwards, and it will reach all but the northeast by evening. Winds will become brisk with gale force wind speeds to the far northwest. Maximum temperatures will reach 15 degrees Celsius (59 F).

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

Rain, with hill snow across Scotland, will continue northeastwards on Sunday. Milder conditions with sunshine and showers will then follow and there may be a rumble of thunder across central England in the heaviest showers. Generally windy but brighter and drier for most on Monday.
