++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northern Scotland will see another cloudy day, with outbreaks of rain.
Elsewhere, after a locally quite chilly start, it will be a largely fine day, with plenty of warm sunshine, although sea breezes will keep coastal areas cooler. The odd shower may break out across Northern Ireland later in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Much of the UK will continue to see a lot fine, dry and warm weather into the start of the new working week. However, scattered showers are expected to develop in places, with perhaps the odd heavy one across southeast England on Monday.
