Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Another fine day for many, bar some isolated showers in the southwest, with sunny spells. However, it will feel fresher than of late across southern parts. Thicker cloud will bring showery outbreaks of rain to western Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Many areas will have a largely dry day on Thursday with sunny spells. However, it will be cloudier in the west with outbreaks of rain. This rain will gradually spread into southwestern areas later. Showers or longer spells of rain will continue through Friday across many southern and central parts; heavy and thundery in places. Drier and brighter further north.
