Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Some brightness in east at first, but cloudy with rain in the west, heavy for parts of southwest England and Wales. Cloud and patchy rain spreading across much of the UK by the end of the day, but the chance of some brighter spells for Scotland along with a scattering of showers.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

A cloudy start to Wednesday with some patchy, light rain. This clearing eastwards, to be replaced by scattered, heavy showers, with some thunder possible. Further heavy, and at times thundery showers on Thursday, particularly heavy and frequent for southwest England.
