++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a grey start across the north through tomorrow with rain affecting Northern England, Southern Scotland and Northern Ireland, although this will ease through the afternoon, possibly with some brightness later. Elsewhere will remain dry with some sunny spells making it feel warm and humid in the south.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Wednesday will be mostly sunny and very warm in the south of the UK, although it will be drier with often cloudy skies in the north. Thundery downpours may occur almost anywhere on Thursday, turning heavy in places, making it feel rather humid.
