Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
It will be a similar day to yesterday in most places, cloudy, very cold with light winds. A few sunny spells may develop, the Southwest and parts of Northern Ireland likely candidates. However, in northern Scotland there will be thicker cloud and light rain for a time.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

There will again be large areas of cloud across England, Wales and Northern Ireland on Saturday, although a few holes should develop. Light rain may affect the east, perhaps some sunshine for the Southwest. Little change is expected on Sunday, mostly dry and cloudy, although temperatures slightly less cold by then.
