++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
England and Wales will be mostly cloudy with rain moving slowly southeast.
Scotland and Northern Ireland will be bright but increasingly windy, with blustery wintry showers, particularly in western parts. The best sunny spells are likely in eastern Scotland and eastern Northern Ireland throughout, with parts of northern England following later.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Monday starting bright and breezy, with sunny spells and isolated showers.
However, it will cloud over in the west later in the day. This comes ahead of heavy rain and widespread strong winds affecting the UK overnight and into Tuesday, particularly affecting southern and western parts of the country.
