Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloudy with wet and windy weather in Scotland, Northern Ireland and northern England which will move southeastwards across the rest of England and Wales, although only light rain is likely in the south and east, followed by clear intervals and scattered showers in the northwest later in the day.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Saturday will be bright with sunny spells, but accompanied by frequent and blustery showers at times during the day. Gales and heavy rain, particularly over exposed western upslope areas, will rush across England and Wales during Sunday with showers and generally lighter winds in the north of the United Kingdom.
