++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Much of the UK will see a dry, bright morning. However, showers already into western areas will progress further east across most parts through the day. Some of the showers will be heavy, with a risk of thunder. A few thundery showers may also affect southeast England early in the day.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

After a bright start on Monday, cloud and rain will spill in from the west, reaching all but northeast Scotland and southeast England by the evening. Persistent rain will affect northern Scotland on Tuesday, with a mixture of sunshine and showers elsewhere. Feeling somewhat cooler than recent days.
