Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A mixture of sunshine and showers on Thursday, with the heaviest of the showers to be found in the east. Across the rest of the country the showers will be lighter and more scattered than today, and there will be some dry and sunny weather, especially in the west.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Predominantly dry and more settled on Friday, before cloud and light rain will spread into the southwest during the morning. Saturday will be damp in the north and south but central and eastern England will have a mostly dry day with some sunny spells.
