Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A drier day for most of the UK tomorrow, with light winds, sunny spells and occasional cloud. A few light showers are possible though, but restricted to the far southeast and Scottish Mountains. Cloud will thicken in the far northwest with some light rain arriving later in the day for western Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Cloud, wind and rain will affect the far north of the UK on Sunday, but remaining dry, warm and bright elsewhere. The rain will sink into more central areas by Monday, weakening as it does so, whilst remaining dry, warm and sunny in the south.
