++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cold and cloudy with a mix of rain, sleet and snow. The risk of settling snow in a zone from southeast England, through the Midlands, parts of Wales, Northern England and eastern Scotland, though accumulations will be quite variable. Some heavy rain for Northern Ireland, and parts of Wales and southern England.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

A few sleet or snow flurries first thing on Monday, but these tending to ease away, then cold and cloudy for the rest of Monday and Tuesday, with overnight frost and ice. Still a few wintry showers for parts of Scotland.
