Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A predominantly dry and bright start tomorrow morning, although it will not be long before heavy showers spread across Northern Ireland. During the afternoon it will tend to become cloudier elsewhere, with heavy showers cropping up more widely. Also during the afternoon, more prolonged rain is set to spread northwards across central and eastern England. Feeling generally cooler.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Rather cool and bright on Thursday with a mix of sunshine and scattered heavy showers, especially inland. Feeling generally warmer on Friday with scattered showers, though the showers fewer and further between. Turning wet in the far southwest by Friday evening.
