++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow: After a chilly start it will be a largely fine day tomorrow with plenty of sunshine and just a few showers, these most likely across central and eastern parts of the UK. It will feel pleasantly warm with light winds and temperatures will be around average for early June.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

High pressure will stay in charge of our weather during Tuesday and Wednesday, giving us plenty of fine and warm weather. However, as we have seen recently it will be chilly in places by night. There will also be a stiff breeze across the far south and north of Britain.
