++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a chilly start to the day, with mist and fog in places. Any mist and fog will slowly lift to low cloud, which will break to give bright or sunny spells during the afternoon. There will be thicker cloud and the odd spot of rain across the far north. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Sunday will remain fine and dry for many, with bright or sunny spells. However, increasing cloud will bring outbreaks of rain into the far southwest of the UK later on Sunday. Turning unsettled into Monday, with wet and windy weather spreading northwards.
