Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be another dry day with sunny spells developing in most locations. Low cloud and fog will be locally slow to disperse across England though, especially near the east coast where dull and misty conditions are likely to linger all day in places. It will become rather warm in the afternoon in any sunshine.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

On Friday most places will remain dry with sunny spells, although cloud and rain will spread into Northern Ireland and later also northwestern Scotland. On Saturday outbreaks of rain will continue to move eastwards but drier and brighter conditions will follow into western areas.
