

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Thursday 08 Dec 2016

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Locally heavy rain will move eastwards across northern England and Wales, leaving very mild and cloudy conditions with occasional light rain or drizzle for Wales, central and southern England. Drier with bright spells elsewhere, where it'll be less mild. Increasingly cloudy in the north overnight. Mild in the south, colder in the north.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Rain in the north-west moves slowly south-eastwards on Friday to lie across many northern, western and some central parts later. Very mild and windy, with gales in the north-west. Bright for many on Saturday but rain persisting in the south.
Windy with showers in the north.
