Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Friday 3 June 2005

** Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Over the North there will be showers with some longer spells of rain.
The showers locally heavy with a risk of thunder. Over Southern England and South Wales showers generally fewer and lighter with some parts staying dry. A fresh breezy especially over England and Wales will make it feel cooler.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

Sunday: Rain will affect parts of Scotland much of Southern England and Wales. Northern Ireland and Northern England will remain generally dry with sunny spells. Monday: Most places dry with sunny spells developing. The best of sunshine over the north and west.
Rather cool but cool in the rain.
