++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Mostly dry and sunny for the northern half of the UK, with temperatures around normal, although feeling warmer in the sunshine. However cloudier conditions are expected across the south, where it will be feeling much cooler than recently, especially in a cold northeasterly breeze.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

It will stay mostly dry, with sunny spells and variable amounts of cloud. The best of the brighter spells will be in northern parts on Tuesday, and across eastern parts on Wednesday. Winds will also remain generally light, with temperatures generally staying above or close to average, although less warm than on Sunday.
