Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Many western and southern areas starting cloudy or misty, but conditions will steadily improve through the morning to give most places a fine, dry day with warm sunny periods. Northwest Scotland and Northern Ireland becoming cloudy again later with outbreaks of rain spreading to these areas in the afternoon, accompanied by strengthening southwesterly winds.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

On Tuesday, northern areas still windy with a few showers. Elsewhere, outbreaks of light rain moving southeastwards to affect most areas for a time, but otherwise fine. On Wednesday, England and Wales mainly dry with sunny spells; further north, cloudier and breezier with rain at times.
