++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Heavy thundery rain is likely to spread north across many parts of England, Wales and later N.Ireland, though Scotland should stay drier with just a few showers. Some very heavy rain is expected, particularly in some southern and central parts of England and east Wales, with a risk of flooding.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

The heavy rain will continue to spread north into Scotland on Saturday with heavy showers developing over most of England, Wales and N.Ireland. On Sunday most places will see a mixture of sunny spells and heavy showers, although northern Scotland will remain rather cloudy with patchy rain.
