++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
The patchy rain will clear from the south during the morning, but remain cloudy. Elsewhere, it will mainly dry with sunny spells, but a few showers are expected in places from the Midlands northwards. The cloud will start to break across parts of the south to give some brightness later.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Showery rain will affect parts of Scotland on Monday and Tuesday, this turning wintry over the hills. Elsewhere, there will be sunny spells and scattered showers although it may stay largely dry in the south. Temperatures are expected to be below normal, but nearer normal in any sunnier spots.
