Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most areas will see sunny spells and showers during Monday. Some of those showers could be heavy and prolonged with hail in places, and they will be wintry over high ground in the north. Windy with gales, perhaps severe gales, in places during the morning, but winds should gradually ease through the day. Feeling rather cold.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Northern Scotland may be fine and dry on Tuesday, but rain will spread northeastwards across all other parts during the day, with some heavy downpours. Wednesday should be a little drier and brighter with some sunny spells, but also some showers. Staying windy too.
