Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It's a cold, foggy and frosty start for much of England and Wales. The fog could linger for most of the day in places. Some sunshine will develop, meanwhile rain will affect north-western parts. Tonight it will turn cloudy for all with further fog and frost forming once again. Staying breeze in the far north with some light rain.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Thursday and Friday will be rather cloudy and mostly dry with some light rain in north where it will be rather windy. Some sunny spells will develop, these most likely to lee of high ground. Turning mild thanks to south-westerly winds.
