

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Thursday 26 May 2016

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It'll be a grey start in central and northern areas with outbreaks of rain.
There'll be sunnier skies in northwest Scotland and southern England and Wales, with showers in southern England this afternoon. Outbreaks of rain will continue across Northern Ireland and southern Scotland tonight. Elsewhere there'll be patchy cloud and some clear spells, perhaps with showers along southern coasts.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Tomorrow will start largely fine and dry with some sunny spells through the day.
Showers will feed into southern and western parts though, perhaps with some thunder later. These conditions will then continue into Saturday with sunshine and showers expected.
