Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Rain clearing eastwards during the morning, with most places seeing sunny spells by afternoon. However, showers will affect many western areas, a little wintry at times over hills, especially in the north. Overnight snow will tend to linger in northeast Scotland. Feeling cold in a brisk northwesterly wind.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Unsettled and breezy with scattered showers on Tuesday, some of which will be wintry over hills. Colder still on Wednesday, with a northerly breeze. A good deal of sunshine on Wednesday, but scattered showers in the east, with snow over hills, and to lower levels in Scotland. Widespread overnight frost returning.
