++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Outbreaks of rain across northwest Scotland today. Otherwise breezy and mostly dry with variable cloud and sunny spells, the best of which over England and Wales. Warm to the southeast of high ground in the south. Overnight, cloud will gradually thicken across many western parts of the UK, bringing patchy, light rain for some, more persistent across northwest Scotland.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Cloud will continue to thicken from the northwest tomorrow, the best of the sunshine for the far southeast by afternoon. A breezy day, windy in the north. Monday dry for most away from northwest Scotland, some brightness east of hills.
