Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Eastern and southern areas will be dry with some good sunny spells developing during the day, but a fresh northwest wind will make it feel rather cooler than of late. Western coastal areas will see a scattering of showers at times through the day but some sunny spells in between.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Cloud and rain will spread in from the northwest during Sunday morning bringing some very wet conditions northwestern parts, along with strong to gale force southwest winds. The rain will clear away southeast during Monday morning leaving a drier brighter breezy day with a few showers in the west.
