Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northern and western parts of the UK will be cloudy with showers or longer spells of rain, which could be heavy at times, even thundery. Elsewhere it will be mainly dry and bright with some good spells of sunshine. It will be unseasonably windy though, with gales possible around exposed coasts and hills.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Thursday will still be breezy with showers but there will be fewer of them and they should be lighter. Friday looks like the driest day of the week with plenty of sunshine and just a few showers, these mainly across eastern England.
