Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Saturday will be generally rather cool with a mix of sunny intervals and scattered showers. The showers locally heavy and potentially thundery, particularly across central and northern areas. The showers lighter but more frequent across southern Britain until lunchtime, before brightening-up during the afternoon. Feeling warmer the south and east later.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

Sunday looks set to be rather cool and breezy with scattered showers, albeit somewhat warmer and mainly dry in the far south and southeast. Remaining cool, breezy and showery in the north and east on Monday but bright, warmer and mainly dry towards the south and southwest.
