Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A cloudy morning is expected across northern Scotland with some light rain around, but it should become dry and brighter for the afternoon. Rather a cloudy start over southernmost England too, but it should improve there through the morning. Otherwise mainly dry and rather warm with sunny spells and light winds, once early mist or fog patches clear.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

High pressure will bring plenty of dry weather with sunny intervals. However, cloud and some rain will spread across northwest Scotland during Friday, and this cloud will move slowly southwards to northern England with a few spots of light rain during Saturday.
