Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A drier and brighter day across most parts of the UK, and less windy than today. Some early showers across northwest England and the Midlands, and also scattered showers developing again across eastern England and Scotland, but less frequent and heavy than today's showers. Cloud will build again across northwestern parts of the UK with some rain later.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

A bright and breezy, but showery day across the northern half of the UK during Saturday, with variable amounts of cloud and a few outbreaks of light rain further south. Similar on Sunday after a spell of widespread rain during Saturday night.
