Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

Dry at first over England and Wales with sunny intervals. Wet and windy weather over Scotland will gradually extend to south Wales and central England by midday. Rain will be heavy and persistent on western upslopes of Scotland, northern England and Wales and patchy elsewhere. Drier spells are also likely in northern and eastern parts. Westerly winds increasing throughout.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Heavy rain across Wales and central England clearing to the south during Tuesday with heavy blustery showers moving into northern areas and continuing into Wednesday. Southern areas drier from Tuesday afternoon with sunny intervals and occasional showers. Gusty westerly winds.
