++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A much cloudier day can be expected in most parts and with substantially lower temperatures than we have seen of late. It should however stay largely dry, just the odd patch of light drizzle here and there. A few bright or sunny spells can be expected in the west and some developing in parts of the south.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

It will be another dull and largely cloudy day on Friday, still with the odd pocket of drizzle here and there. The cloud does move away northwestwards though on Saturday, leaving plenty of sunny periods, but still rather cold despite the sunshine.
